

ORDINANCE NO. 2011-033

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF DANIA BEACH, FLORIDA, AMENDING CHAPTER 2, "ADMINISTRATION", SECTION 2-30, "INDIVIDUAL CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTION LIMITS" OF THE CITY CODE OF ORDINANCES TO PROVIDE FOR ADDITIONAL CAMPAIGN FINANCING PROVISIONS SUPPLEMENTING STATE LAW THAT WILL PROHIBIT ENTITIES AND ORGANIZATIONS FROM MAKING CONTRIBUTIONS TO CANDIDATES IN CITY ELECTIONS FOR MAYOR AND CITY COMMISSIONERS; PROVIDING ADDITIONAL RELATED DEFINITIONS; PROVIDING FOR SEVERABILITY; PROVIDING FOR CONFLICTS; FURTHER, PROVIDING FOR AN EFFECTIVE DATE.

WHEREAS, the United States Supreme Court has held in several instances beginning with the decision in Buckley v. Valeo, 424 U.S. 1 (1976), that the perception of corruption is inherent in a system of large financial contributions to candidates for public office, and the City Commission of the City of Dania Beach has determined that it is necessary to prevent corruption and the appearance of corruption that results from campaign contributions from entities and organizations; and

WHEREAS, the City Commission has found that it is necessary for the preservation of the integrity of representative democracy in the City of Dania Beach to impose limitations and restrictions on campaign contributions, which includes direct expenditures on behalf of and in support of candidates in municipal elections in order to remove the perception of corruption stemming from candidate dependence upon contributors such as corporations, special interest groups and other entities and organizations; and

WHEREAS, the United States Supreme Court has found that when the perception of corruption is not addressed, the resulting cynical assumption of voters is that large donors unduly influence the work of government and could jeopardize the willingness of voters to participate in the democratic process of representative government; and

WHEREAS, the City Commission has found that the public's awareness of the possibilities of abuse and corruption arising from contributions from entities and organizations erodes the public's confidence in the democratic system and in the integrity of municipal elections in the City of Dania Beach; and

WHEREAS, the City Commission has determined that in order to prevent the appearance of undue influence and access to candidates by contributors and to prevent candidates from gaining an unfair advantage in the political marketplace, it is necessary to address the potential for abuses associated with campaign contributions, including direct expenditures by entities formed for business purposes such as, but not limited to, corporations, limited liability companies, professional associations, national and state banks, unincorporated associations, labor organizations, and limited partnerships, limited liability partnerships, and general partnerships, as well as special interest groups such as political committees, political action committees, committees of continuous existence and unincorporated associations; and

WHEREAS, business entities and entities formed for business purposes have the ability to amass great wealth in the economic marketplace and to utilize such wealth to disproportionately impact municipal elections with campaign contributions, which unfairly influences elections and creates the perception that public officials may be influenced by special interests to the public detriment; and

WHEREAS, resources in the treasury and accounts of a business entity are not an indication of popular support of the entity's political ideas, but instead reflect the economically-motivated decisions of investors, owners, and customers; and

WHEREAS, the City Commission has determined that in order to prevent abuses that can result from the City's limited campaign contribution amounts, it is necessary to prohibit contributions from groups and organizations to inhibit circumvention of the City's contribution limitations; and

WHEREAS, there is a danger that a candidate's reliance on contributions from corporations, special interest groups and other entities and organizations for election assistance will impair such candidate's ability to make independent choices; and

WHEREAS, the City Commission has determined that the appearance of quid pro quo relationships between special interest contributors and political recipients, whether or not it exists, seriously undermines public confidence in the political system, and has the potential for a disproportionate impact on elections in the City of Dania Beach; and

WHEREAS, the City Commission has determined that campaign contributions in previous elections demonstrate that candidates can amass the resources necessary to participate effectively in the electoral process, by means of contributions from individuals and without relying on contributions from corporations, special interest groups and other entities and organizations; and

WHEREAS, the City Commission has determined the campaign finance provisions of this ordinance will eliminate the appearance of and the potential for undue and unfair influence on elected city officials and will help to instill more faith and trust in government, will ensure that competition among candidates in the political arena is truly a competition of political ideas, and will level the playing field for qualified individuals, who may not otherwise choose to run for public office, desiring to devote the time and effort necessary to seek and hold the office of Mayor or City Commissioner of the City of Dania Beach.
